Two Protestants Against West Side Lighting Project—Trustee White Resigns. Election on Park Bonds Wanted

All present except Mr. White. There was a larger attendance than usual in the audience, being interested parties representing the industrial district and park projects. Demands approved were reported back from committee. The order of business, on motion of Mr. Coker, was changed so as to hear the protestants in the matter of the proposed industrial district. The clerk read the petition against the establishment of such a district, signed by a large number of property owners. Chairman Watson made a statement showing that the proposed district could, in his opinion, be regulated so as not to be detrimental to the property owners, and on motion it was referred to committee of the whole. No one seemed disposed to discuss the matter after this action, and the West Glendale lighting project was taken up. In this connection the clerk read a protest from Mr. J. I. Thompson against the proposition, objecting to property owners being taxed for this purpose as long as other lines of poles are left on Fourth street as at present, between Central and Remington. Mr. Thompson was present and addressed the board in regard to the matter. Manager Lynch stated that he believed that if time were allowed the poles would be removed, as the Sunset Company in particular has shown its disposition to remove its poles where objectionable. Mr. ———— addressed the trustees in opposition to the lighting project, stating that the whole proposition is an extravagance, other things, in his opinion, being more necessary. No further protests were made. The clerk read a petition protesting against the improvement of Dryden street, signed by nine property owners on said street. On motion, the communication was filed. A petition was received from J. G. Wilder for a permit to construct sidewalk and roadway on Campbell street by private contract. Granted. A communication was received making a specific charge against the Consolidated Water Company for overcharge for water, signed by Harry W. Chase. Referred to board of public works. A communication was read from John Robert White, Jr., resigning the position of trustee of the City of Glendale. On motion, the same was received and the resignation accepted. A petition signed by 718 citizens was read, requesting the board of trustees to call an election for the voting of bonds for the purchase of Verdugo Park and for the location of a central park. Referred to committee of the whole. Another petition was received and read, signed by H. M. Overton, W. R. Walker and a large number of other citizens, calling attention to the necessity for a central park and suggesting the purchase of the block bounded by Third and Fourth streets and Jackson and Kenwood streets. Referred to committee of the whole. Mr. Overton addressed the board in reference to the proposition. Mr. Goode also spoke, assuring the board that this is the last opportunity that the city will have of purchasing Verdugo Park, although he would like to see the city own the two parks. Mr. Ady addressed the board, also favoring the Verdugo Park proposition. At this point Mr. Hartranft, one of the owners of the park, developed in the rear of the hall, and stated that he would be glad to have the park taken off their hands, and that there never had been a previous option given on the property except a verbal one to Mr. Pirtle. Mr. Emery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced a mass meeting to be held Friday evening at Odd Fellows Hall to discuss the matter of a scenic railway to the top of Mt. Verdugo. On motion of Mr. Coker, the supply committee was instructed to purchase an additional typewriter. An ordinance establishing the grade of a portion of Doran street was read a third time and adopted. An ordinance establishing the grade of a portion of Louise street was read a first time and laid over. A resolution was passed adopting the grade of Penn street recommended by the city engineer. A resolution of intention to improve Penn street was adopted. An ordinance fixing water rates from July 1 next was read first time and second times and laid over. A resolution providing for lights and appliances in the ornamental lighting district was passed.

MARRIED.

At the residence of Mr. Elias Ayers, Cedar street, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Miss Bessie Turner was married to Mr. George Marble of Los Angeles. Under the skillful directions of Miss Ruth A. Byram, the house was beautifully decorated with plumosis, orange blossoms and roses, the bride carrying a bouquet of white and green. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. B. Pritchard of Los Angeles assisted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church, Glendale.

Dainty refreshments were served after the ceremony which was witnessed by a few friends of the contracting parties. The young couple will make their home in Glendale.

Mr. John Robert White, Jr., after a month's absence on a business trip to eastern cities, returned to Glendale Thursday of last week just in time to participate in the Mid-May Festival. He reports business good in New York and Chicago notwithstanding the general interest taken in the political campaign.

LIGHTS FOR WEST SIDE

Iron Standards Ordered for Street Lights

At the trustees' meeting, Monday evening, the street lights in the newly annexed territory were ordered installed in accordance with the original plans. This system was planned by the lighting department of the city in response to the necessity for street lights for this section, accompanied by a demand from the residents that the streets be kept free from poles, a demand which was in accord with the wishes of the department.

In February of this year a meeting of the property holders of this section was held at the Knights of Pythias hall on Brand boulevard to consider the matter. The proposition put forward was that the city, which was at that time preparing to furnish lights for that section, should put all poles for house lighting in the alleys, and make every effort to have what few poles were already in the streets removed. It was further proposed to place tungsten street lights of the type now used for street lighting on iron standards, and to put all wires leading to them underground. As this would cost considerably more than could be devoted to this purpose by the city, it was proposed that the city should pay an amount equal to the cost of placing the lights in the usual manner, and that all in excess of that should be paid by an assessment against the property.

This proposition was adopted by a very large vote, and is what the trustees have now ordered by resolution.

The assessment is placed at $7.20 for each fifty-foot lot, larger lots being charged more in proportion to their frontage. The assessment is now payable at the office of the tax collector, and will become delinquent on June 26, after which there is an additional penalty of ten per cent.

This improvement will add greatly to the desirability of this territory as a residence section. Lights will be placed from two hundred to two hundred and fifty feet apart, alternating from one side of the street to the other.

The plant has added over one hundred new consumers to the lines in this section, since the plant of the Glendale Light and Power Company was taken over, a few weeks ago. Lines are being extended and rebuilt, and in a short time none of this territory will be without electric lights, either for house lighting or street lighting.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

Mr. Wilmot Parcher has sold his place, consisting of house and three acres of land, on Glendale avenue, opposite the packing house, to a syndicate composed of Frank L. Muhleman, Homer D. Brown and L. W. Chobe. The purchasers propose to build on the property a number of residences of the bungalow type, with attractive features in the way of road and landscape work. Mr. Parcher is undecided as yet whether he and his family will remain in Glendale, although desiring to do so. Mr. Parcher was Glendale's first mayor, and at all times has been a public-spirited and useful citizen. The NEWS hopes that he will remain here and help us grow.

G. A. R. MEMORIAL SERVICES.

N. P. Banks past G. A. R. held a Memorial service Sunday afternoon last at G. A. R. hall which was well attended. The hall was beautifully decorated and the march of the veterans to their places, following the flag, was impressive. The program was as follows: Instrumental music, Miss Elsie Vance; Scripture reading, Rev. Carns; prayer, Rev. Utter; solo, Miss Pearl Harrison; address, Rev. Nave of Los Angeles; solo, Mr. Fletcher Pomeroy; "America," by the congregation, and benediction by Rev. Blackburn. Services as usual were held Thursday at Grand View Cemetery.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

At the meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. R. E. Chase; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson; secretary, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Bott; member executive committee, Mrs. W. E. Evans. Mrs. P. S. McNutt acted as chairman of the business meeting, which received the reports of the officers of the club. It was decided to buy the lot on Fifth street, near Jackson, on which to erect a club house.

SCHOOL BONDS CARRY

Casa Verdugo Gets Its School House

The bond election on Tuesday for the issuance of $30,000 bonds for the purchase of ground and the erection and furnishing of a school building in the Casa Verdugo section, came off quietly in those precincts within Glendale city where the vote was comparatively light, and was quite harmonious in the Casa Verdugo precinct where the opponents of the project cast only 13 votes out of a total of 279. The vote was as follows:

Precinct No. 1, Casa Verdugo—For bonds, 266; against, 13.

Precinct No. 2, 549 W. Fourth St.—For bonds, 94; against 122.

Precinct No. 3, 1111 W. Fourth St.—For bonds, 94; against 82.

Total vote, 671; two-thirds required, 448; total vote for bonds, 454; winning by six votes.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALE.

Miss Alpha Prindle, assisted by her piano instructor, Clarence E. Krinbill, and five of his pupils in this place, Misses Jean and Lynn McNutt, Merva Scott, Aileen and Morse Preeman, entertained a large company of guests with a most charming musicale at the Perry C. Dodge residence on Seventh street, last Friday evening. A piano program of exceptional merit was rendered by those playing, each number was a musical gem and their execution was most creditable both to the performers and their instructor. Naturally, Miss Alpha as the hostess, assumed the role of leading performer and her work was most commendable; she and the others played with artistic perception.

Delightful assistance was given by a splendid Chicago soprano now visiting in Los Angeles, Miss Corine Bingaman, whose exquisite voice was heard to great advantage in such songs as "Carissima," "Carmena," and the "Bobolink."

Mrs. A. F. Howard, a reader of whom Glendale may feel proud, gave several selections in an absolutely captivating manner.

Conversation, punch and cakes closed the happy affair.

PROF. J. H. FRANCIS TO ADDRESS PARENT-TEACHER FEDERATION.

On the evening of June 6th, Prof. J. H. Francis will address the people of Glendale and vicinity under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Federation. The meeting will be held in the Union high school auditorium and it is earnestly desired that the auditorium will be filled to the utmost capacity, as the opportunity is free to all and the public at large is urged to attend. Prof. Francis is superintendent of the Los Angeles schools.

A reception committee will be composed of the officers of the various associations. Each association will have a booth in which punch will be served during the reception hour. Previous to the program the high school orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, will render a number of selections. A musical program will be given by the valley's most talented and popular musicians. The evening's program will be: Piano trio, Prof. C. E. Krinbill, Dorothy Lee, Zera Kimball; vocal selection, Mrs. William Herman West; address, Prof. J. H. Francis; Glories of Irish songs, Mr. William Herman West.

Modern scholarship is doing much to prove the reliability of the Bible narrative. Recently an expedition under George Reisner of Harvard has just completed a series of excavations in the palace of King Ahab in Palestine. One of the most remarkable finds was the kitchen of the palace, where more than 5000 household utensils were uncovered.

MAY FESTITAL

When we went to press last Thursday the May Festival was in full blast. The Los Angeles papers, as strictly reliable as usual, varied in their estimates of the number of visitors present all the way from 10,000 to 20,000 and we will add nothing to those figures. Anyhow there was a crowd about the streets all day and the large number of autos engaged in "Showing Glendale" were kept busy. The barbecue was well managed, but should have been started an hour or so earlier. The absence of music owing to failure to the managers of the show and the Glendale band together was noticeable and should be remedied hereafter. Officers Miller and Everett kept the crowd in proper shape although some of the home people caused them considerable trouble while in line for the refreshments. It would be a good rule on similar future occasions to serve visitors first. There were good speeches in the evening by Rev. Willisford, Marshall Stimson, Mr. Park and Capt. H. Lee Clotworthy, but owing to the uncertainty as to the time this feature would be brought on there was a rather small audience.

Officer Jim Everett was handicapped seriously in his duties by being compelled to go on crutches as the result of a serious fall from his bicycle the night before when his overcoat caught in the bicycle wheel and pitched him overboard violently. He is gradually recovering from a badly sprained knee, but still wears crutches.

The Glendale and Eagle Rock railway carried passengers to and from Verdugo Park free for a part of the day and was well patronized.

The two halls secured for the evening's entertainment were well favored by a large number of dancers.

PARKS

Two Definite Projects and More to Come—Communications on the Subject

The city trustees having referred the Verdugo Park project to the park commission recently appointed by Mayor Watson, that body took the matter up at a meeting Tuesday evening. There was considerable diversity of opinion, some members favoring one central park, others wanting one on each side of town and still others favoring all of the propositions. When adjournment was made it was to meet again next Saturday evening, June 8th, an effort being made meantime to ascertain as nearly as possible the wishes of the people, and at that meeting it is thought the committee can formulate some definite recommendation. In order to get an expression of opinion the NEWS will be glad to publish next week communications on the subject, which must be brief and to the point.

PARK PURCHASE.

Sidney Dell Objects.

Editor NEWS:

Buying Verdugo Park for $60,000 does not "look good" to me for four plain reasons.

First. The owners must, of necessity, make it into a resort—a free park—in order to utilize to its best advantage, that noble grove and that bold stream. We will, if that be correct, have the free use of that lovely park without paying for it.

Second. Manager Hartranft, of the Western Empire Land Co., within three months last past, offered to donate it to the city of Glendale as a BAIT to BUYERS of the 8000 to 10,000 acres of land in Verdugo Valley he then had bonded for subdivision purposes. The only condition was that the city should improve the park at its own expense. Suddenly, all Hartranft's options are allowed to expire and Mr. Goode steps to the front with his attractive (?) offer. Who gets the "rake off?" Will the options be renewed so soon as the city takes the Goode bait?

Third. It is said the Verdugo Park property has no deed that entitles it to use that noble stream in keeping up the park; but that the water company can at any time sequester that limpid stream in its pipes at the spring sources north of the park. If that be a fact, then a $60,000 bond issue to buy that White Elephant would not only be a donation to Goode & Co., but would force the city to buy the Verdugo Canon water at the company's OWN PRICE,—say a half million dollars, to protect its ill-advised purchase. Is this the first step in the subterranean scheme to buy the Verdugo Canon water? Is there a larger scheme "hid in the woodpile?"

Fourth. Plainly, to my mind, that is the ultimate question: Shall Glendale buy—even at half price—the Verdugo Canon water for a domestic supply, instead of getting cheap (and constantly reducing in price) Owens river water? If that is the real question, then I have one, lonesome, gigantic, overwhelming reason to offer why Glendale would be guilty of criminal folly to make that purchase for a domestic water supply.

"My hat is in the ring," all same T.R.

SIDNEY DELL.

Glendale, May 29, 1912.

PUBLIC PARKS.

Yes, we want parks. We want our city, which is now fast merging into Greater Glendale, to buy Verdugo Park thereby getting it away from private ownership, preventing any scheme of dividing it into five-acre lots, with restriction of twenty thousand dollar residences, making it the rich man's home. We want this ideal and beautiful plot of ground for the poor man's pleasure, for our family picnics, for our Sunday school picnics, swings there for our children, observation building on its hill top, where we can look over entire Glendale and San Fernando valley. This plot of ground, viewed from a park standpoint, is the most beautiful the writer has ever seen, even old Florida, with its lakes and large cypress trees can't beat it. Has forty acres, just the size for a dandy park. The price, $50,000, while its real value is $100,000, will be worth twice that in five years. The fine large forest trees, the ground, part level, part hilly, not only makes it very desirable, but really the only obtainable plot of ground, that gives us a park,—that is ready for use now.

Then we want another park down near the center of the city, some place along Orange street would be very desirable. We want this west of the boulevard, because ground can be bought cheaper than the east side for one reason. The east side was granted the fine new city hall. To balance up, let us give the small park, say one block, bounded by four streets, to the west side, which we think can be purchased for about $15,000. This park in reality will be more of a rest proposition, with a fine fountain and band stand. Now for the money part of the matter, as we can't buy good things without money. The value on tax duplicate of the large territory we annexed on the northeast is $514,000. The value of the territory on the west side, on tax duplicate, is $200,000. The increase in valuation on duplicate of Glendale, without the recently annexed parts, is $400,000, making a total increase of $1,100,000. Now, that is going some, even for "Greater Glendale." This increase in valuation means a much larger annual revenue from taxation; less than half of this increase will pay off the bonds for buying these parks. In fact, just about one-half of the taxes from the recently annexed parts will more than pay the bonds. So it will not be necessary to increase our taxes one cent to acquire these parks. With our rapid growth our taxable value, our careful and business qualities of our city council, our tax rate will go down and yet we will be acquiring at the same time city utilities that are necessary for the advancement of our city.

So let us push forward, carefully, but surely, and we will have a city equal in beauty and health to any other one in our fine old state of California. Sincerely,

ALLEN C. ADY.

To the Board of Trustees and Park Commission of Glendale City.

There is no question that occupies the minds of the citizens of our growing city at the present time more than the obtaining of a good city park. The writers of this article have just returned from a visit to the San Joaquin valley, stopping at Merced, Madera, Fresno, Visalia and Bakersfield. All of these cities have a large and spacious park located right in the center of town and beautified with the finest of trees, shrubbery and grass. In most of these parks is a band stand and ample seats to accommodate the populace when band concerts are given.

We were so impressed with all of these parks that on our way home we discussed the park situation and resolved some time in the future to see what could be done in getting a Central Public Park for Glendale.

On Saturday we were confronted with a proposition calling an election to purchase Verdugo Park for the city of Glendale for $60,000. We are opposed to purchasing any outside park at this time until we have one or two central parks.

There is one park in Los Angeles which is visited by every one and is more used than all the others, and that park is Central Park.

In looking over our city for a suitable location we believe that the block bounded by Broadway, Kenwood, Third and Jackson streets would make Glendale the finest Central Park that could possibly be secured.

The purchase price of Verdugo Park is $60,000. We have every assurance to believe that we can offer this entire block to the city for $45,000, possibly less.

Where is it possible to obtain a better location, more central than the block we propose? The price, location and size are all right and are today within the reach of the citizens of Glendale. The way centrally located property is increasing in Glendale it is doubtful if the city waits another year it will be possible to purchase any Central Park at any reasonable price.

We ask that your honorable body give due consideration to the purchase of this block for a Glendale City park, one in which we may gather on holidays and summer evenings, sit on the grass or in easy seats underneath the trees and listen to nature's song or to other music.

Why spend $60,000 for a project, when $45,000 will benefit far more of our people and give us great civic pride and cause strangers to comment upon our beautiful park and our far-sightedness. Yours for Greater Glendale,

H. M. OVERTON,
H. W. WALKER,
W. R. MIDDLEWORTH.

GLENDALE, CAL., MAY 31, 1912

Glendale citizens are being kept busy signing petitions or dodging petition circulators.

The sweet summer time is upon us and the Don't-have-to- workers are planning for the joys of vacation days.

No, the wet weather was not so very "unusual." Rains in May occur in California about every alternate year on an average, and occasionally rather heavy showers fall in June.

The NEWS has received the excellent annual report of the California Development Board in San Francisco. It is an intensely interesting encyclopedia of information in regard to the resources of the state, and is accompanied by an up-to-date map.

That G.A.R. chaplain who in a memorial address last Sunday took occasion to arraign the president of the United States and foolishly accuse him of being responsible for the spirit of anarchy and unrest in this country, is either a fit subject for the insane asylum or for stern rebuke at the hands of his comrades.

About the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty-six, Glendale will be one hundred years old. How time does fly! Is it not time to think of a proper celebration? There will be a lot of things to point to with pride, possibly among them the recent completion of the improvement of Sixth street!

The county charter commissioners are now supposed to be hard at work on the new law that is to make us "Independent of Sacramento." We say "supposed to be," for there is the possibility that the work of the commission may consist in merely putting the official stamp of its approval on a typewritten document long ago formulated by those able formulators, Messrs. Gates, Hewitt, et al.

Brother Burch of the Tropico Sentinel is in error in stating that "Glendale has made application to the state board of public utilities for the regulation of its water rates." The state board of public utilities can have no jurisdiction in an incorporated city until by a vote of the people, the right of the city to control rates is voluntarily relinquished, which has not been done in Glendale nor officially proposed.

The most dangerous enemy of society is not the man whom everybody knows to be a foe of that which is good, but the plausible fanatic who is so immersed in his own conceit that he feels justified in using any means to attain his end. Such a man playing successfully upon the generous impulses of the thoughtless, can sway them to his will and from the inside of the citadel pull down the walls against which the foe outside have dashed themselves in vain.

In retiring voluntarily from the position of city trustee, Mr. John Robert White brings to a close an excellent record as a municipal officer who has devoted a great deal of time taken from his private business, to the service of the city. Mr. White has for the past two years acted as "Mayor" of Glendale with unusual ability, industry and dignity, and retiring from the service of the public as a trustee does not, of course, deprive the community of his valued aid in the capacity of a private citizen in building up Greater Glendale, as he continues to be our fellow citizen.

The members of the I.W.W. are self-confessed enemies of society and sympathy extended to them is encouragement of their methods. There is no virtue in their plea that they are fighting for "free speech." Society has the inherent right to protect itself from the freedom that speaks profanity, obscenity, slander and treason. The San Diego authorities should have exhausted the resources of the law and until that was done there was no necessity for vigilantes. The police force of that city has a right to turn back at the city limits any person who is attempting to enter with the avowed intention of committing a crime. If otherwise good citizens would refrain from expressing sympathy for every criminal who wrongly imagines that he is working for a "good cause," there would be less of crime and more of patriotism.

OWENS RIVER WATER.

The appointment by Mayor Alexander of Frank Henderson to a position on the public service commission of Los Angeles may turn out to have been a wise selection. At any rate, since he was made chairman of the board, the commissioners have at last decided upon a plan for the distribution of the Owens river water which appears practicable as well as equitable. A few weeks ago this paper expressed the opinion that the only practicable way for the city to find customers for this water was to lease it on fair terms to the ranch owners particularly in the San Fernando valley; and this is practically what the commission has at last decided upon. The plan is to issue contracts, each one entitling the holder to an inch of water for the term of fifteen years. The price proposed is $333, equivalent to about $42 an acre, as it is estimated that one inch will serve seven and one-half acres of land. The owners of alfalfa land can better afford to pay this price than to put down wells and pump them, provided the water is delivered to their land. Months ago we expressed the opinion that the attempt of prominent citizens of Los Angeles to create an impression that it would be necessary for outside territory to be annexed to Los Angeles in order to obtain the Owens river water was insincere and would finally be abandoned, and this idea seems to be sustained by recent events.

There is a possibility that Los Angeles will be willing to dispose of this water on even better terms for the user than those outlined above, for it is doubtful if a market can be found by next January for the 18,000 inches that it is expected to bring down here by that time. Senator Hewitt in a recent speech admitted that the city is required by law to use all the water delivered to it, but intimated that the quantity delivered would be gauged by the demand. That is simple enough but it is likely to interfere with the proposed power projects.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Once more the flowers of May have been strewn with lavish hands directed by the impulse of patriotic hearts over the graves of the heroes of half a century ago. No day set aside on the calendar for especial remembrance and commemoration deserves more hearty and general observance than this. The heroes who survive the great civil war are dwindling rapidly, the generation that saw this strife of brother against brother, is almost gone, and the recollection of it must not pass away. In the enjoyment of peace and prosperity we can well afford on one day of the year to turn our thought to those who were willing and did sacrifice their lives that those who followed them should be able to enjoy the blessing of government in peace and safety. The passing years have erased nearly all the bitterness of that time and wearers of the blue and of the gray have learned to respect each other and to appreciate the fact that back of the one as well as the other was a devotion to principle which rose superior to all baser motives.

It is difficult to appreciate our everyday blessings and it is well to turn frequently to the pages of our country's history and endeavor to understand at what cost these blessings of government have been secured.

By the celebration one day in the year of the actions of the valiant dead, the spirit of patriotism is revived and kept alive through the pleasant years of peace and their inspiring influence enters more or less into our hundrum lives. So to those heroes of fifty years ago, living and dead, the nation may well and profitably pay homage, the flags drop to half mast in honor of the dead and as the remnant of the great army of heroes passes along in slow moving procession, it is well that every hat be lifted and every head be bowed and that all should pay a tribute of honor to the men who in the days that tried men's souls, were the nation's strength and saviors!

DEATH OF JOHN WALDO ELLIS.

Rev. John Waldo Ellis, who has been widely known in this locality through his work for the Children's Home Society, died at his home in Los Angeles on the 17th of May. Few men who have done business in this part of California have done so much for the promotion of good citizenship and the relief of destitution. Mr. Ellis spent more than eighteen years in looking after dependent children, and hundreds of young men and women now prosperous and respected received their start in life through his efforts. His work for the society will be continued by Mrs. Ellis so far as she is able to carry it.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis until about three months ago were residents of Glendale, residing on Third street, near Verdugo Park.

ANOTHER STRAW.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS.

The Rev. O'Neal's communication proves him to be very touchy when "Just a straw" will make him roar, but horrors, we would not have believed it had he not confessed, that he too feeds on this "intellectual carion food." The quotation from the Appeal we had not seen, being a workman, we had not the the leisure to feed so abundantly or glean so closely of this style of intellectual pabulum as the Father seems to have done. Just a hint. If you really wish to do what your communication indicates,—strike a blow at Socialism,—go to the Bible and from its Word give us an annihilating broadside. We challenge you to take your Bible as a text book in your attacks on Socialism. Come, this is a Christian community, and as you have shown yourself opposed to Socialism, give us argument and logic from the Book whose teachings you profess to believe but the practical side of which you so bitterly oppose. Why?

The Baracs class of the Sunday school has been reorganized with Mr. A. R. Taylor as teacher. It is making a fine growth and the young men are having a good time together. They are already making use of their unfinished room in the new building for their class sessions.

The various departments of the Sunday school are expecting to furnish their rooms in the new building, and for this purpose are raising funds. The primary department will hold a food sale at McGillis' grocery store next Saturday to help furnish their room.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach a short sermon on "The Power of the Impotent." This will be followed by the ordinance of the Lord's Supper, when the right hand of fellowship will be extended to new members. CASA VERDUGO AND NORTH GLENDALE

Two large bungalows are being built on Stocker street by Mr. Goldstone.

Mrs. Swartout left for Phoenix, Ariz., this week where she expects to remain.

E. B. Wyman has purchased two lots on Putnam street north of Randolph, and will build at once a modern bungalow.

Casa Verdugo and North Glendale people are making applications numerously for connection with Glendale's lighting system, attention being given to connections as promptly as possible.

The Pepper Tree Inn has discontinued furnishing meals to transients, but is still furnishing accommodations to its regular patrons, among whom are a number of guests whose daily duties are in Los Angeles.

Another sale by the same party was that of a house and lot, 1125 Melrose avenue to Mr. C. M. Carr, for $3800. Mr. Carr, who is connected with Pease Bros. of Los Angeles, as head of their financial department, has occupied it with his family.

Mr. N. C. Kelley recently sold lot 82 of the Casa Verdugo Villa tract, on Melrose avenue to Mr. Frank Weetman, formerly of Bryn Mawr, Pa., where he was for some years in charge of the Valley Hunt Club. Mr. Weetman will erect a modern bungalow on the property.

The county is at work oiling Brand boulevard from Burchett to Mountain street. It shows no disposition however to do anything towards opening up the east side of the boulevard at the wash which is still closed to traffic presumably because of a deadlock with the P. E., as to which shall do the work. Louise street from Central to Mountain street is also being oiled.

FAVORS PARKS.

Rev. E. H. Willisford, pastor of the Congregational church, Sunday morning as a sermon prelude discussed the park question. Among other things he said: "While the securing of Verdugo Park may be timely and desirable, yet not to secure smaller parks nearer will be a serious mistake. To be of greatest value parks must be within easy walking distance of the people."

The speaker commended the appointment of the park commission and suggested that several public mass meetings be called in order that all interested parties might have an opportunity to express themselves.

Saved by a Cigar.

M. Guizot, the well known French historian, while out walking in one of the public gardens of Paris noticed that he was being followed by a disreputable looking and badly dressed individual. M. Guizot was puzzled by the man's behavior, but instead of showing alarm he calmly sat down when he arrived at his favorite seat. The ruffian, without hesitation, came and sat down beside him and gave the historian so fierce a look as to have disconcerted a less timid man. But with a delightful nonchalance M. Guizot took out his cigar case, abstracted a cigar and slowly lit it. The effect of this action upon his companion was remarkable. With a start and a scowl the man suddenly rose and, muttering to himself, "The man I want to kill never smokes," walked rapidly away. A week or so later the historian read in the newspapers that this same individual had been arrested for a violent attack upon a well known public official who bore a strong likeness to M. Guizot himself. The famous writer went home and smoked a big cigar in honor of his narrow escape.

Anecdote of Gounod.

Gounod was at one moment within an ace of taking holy orders, but on reflection he thought that the life of a priest would not suit him. He none the less remained a firm and devout Catholic and adored religious music. On this point a typical anecdote is told of him. It occurred during the rehearsal of his "Drames Sacres" at the Vaudeville theater. The manager called on him one morning and asked permission to make a suggestion. "I think, mon cher maitre," he said, "that there is something wanting in your sacre. For example, do you not think that the Barabbas incident might be improved by a little more orchestral effect?" Gounod, without replying, hid his head in his hands and after two or three minutes of meditation suddenly exclaimed: "No; decidedly no. Such a blackguard as that does not deserve more music."—London Graphic.

Reassuring "Miss Blake."

As they boarded the train they had every look of being a bridal couple. The young man carefully escorted the young woman to a seat, while the interested passengers smiled indulgently. Then, extending his hand to the supposed bride, he said in a very loud voice, "Well, Miss Blake, the train is about to pull out; I wish you a very pleasant journey," and, doffing his soft hat, he hurried off the train. The passengers looked disappointed.

But the young woman seemed nervous. By and by she called the porter and in a whisper gave him some mysterious errand. He came back in a moment and said in a voice audible to every one:

Everybody smiled, and the bride blushed prettily.—Youth's Companion.

Sothern and Laura Keene.

The elder Sothern had a great reputation as a practical joker, and to quote his son's own words: "His nerve staggered people at times. I remember that in Baltimore he was once joined by that clever actress Laura Keene. Laura Keene was very hot tempered. On one occasion something went wrong, and she called my father to her dressing room and began to give him a terrific tongue lashing, in the midst of which he suddenly turned out the gas. 'How dare you!' shrieked the fascinating Laura. 'I can't bear to see a pretty woman in a temper,' said my father as he calmly lit the gas again."

Children and Books.

Dr. Johnson held views far in advance of his age on the subject of children's books. The child itself, he held, was the best judge. "I would put a child into a library (where no unfit books are) and let him read at his choice," he said. "A child should not be discouraged from reading anything he takes a liking to from a notion that it is above his reach. If that be the case the child will soon find it out and desist. If not he, of course, gains the instruction, which is so much the more likely to come from the inclination with which he takes up the study."

Heredity.

"Father!"

"Well, son, what is it now?"

"I want to ask you an important question."

"Fire ahead, boy; I shan't be offended at what you ask."

"Thank you. I want to ask why you are so old fashioned in your ideas?"

"I suppose it's heredity. I remember asking my own father that very same question."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SENATOR BAILEY'S BILL.

Heyburn Objected to Its Passage, and It Was Thrown Out.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho, spoken of by many persons as the "chief objecter" of the senate had just finished one of his characteristic protests against pending legislation, and, with several colleagues, was at luncheon in the restaurant at the capitol. In the party were former Senator Hale of Maine and Senator Bailey of Texas. The conversation had drifted to certain of the president's judicial appointments.

"Well," remarked Mr. Bailey, finishing his demitasse, "I have a bill that I'll bet will pass without objection from our friend Heyburn."

"How much?" demanded Mr. Bailey.

"Well—say the price of the lunch."

"Done," said Mr. Bailey. Smiling, he threw a crisp $10 yellowback on the table. "Heyburn can't object to the passage of that," he added triumphantly.

Mr. Hale looked crestfallen, remarked something about a "mean trick" and mechanically reached for the luncheon check.

"Hold on!" cried Mr. Heyburn suddenly. "I object. As a law abiding citizen I object to the passage of this bill."

"On what grounds?" demanded Mr. Bailey.

"It's counterfeit," replied Mr. Heyburn quietly.

And sure enough, it was one of those excellent imitations of real money that Chief Wilkie of the secret service had traced to the middle west.

"Well," said Mr. Bailey, with biting sarcasm, "I'm glad Heyburn has found one genuine excuse for an objection."—Washington Post.

Complimentary.

There was a large audience, and the rush for seats was very much augmented by the form in which the admission tickets were printed.

The inscription ran thus:

Lecture on "Fools." Admit one.

Obeyed Too Well.

Lord Liverpool, who was premier of England, was a very precise and dignified man. On one occasion when he was traveling incognito, after breakfasting at a hotel in London, he ordered his valet, a raw Sussex youth, to clear the table and pack everything in a portmanteau. By this order, of course, were meant Lord Liverpool's letters and papers. But the youth took it to include the silver teapot and spoons. When Lord Liverpool was driving down Oxford street a cry of "Stop thief!" was raised, and the landlord of the hotel arrived in hot pursuit. There in the street the prime minister had the mortification of having his luggage opened, and in one bag was found the plate. Never would the statesman laugh at the episode even years after, so great was his fear that the story might get into the newspapers.

IN ONE BAG WAS FOUND THE PLATE.

His Best Role.

Recently a letter of introduction was handed by an actor to a manager which described the presenter as an actor of much merit and concluded: "He plays Macbeth, Richelieu, Hamlet, Shylock and billiards. He plays billiards best."

The Landlord's Lament.

The usually alert and cheerful landlord of a hotel in a small town had a scowl on his face as he looked out of the corner of his eye at one of his regular boarders who was whistling joyously as he went up the stairs. As the boarder disappeared the landlord turned to the men standing near.

"There was never but one guest at this here hotel that stung me while I was on the job," he confided. "Several have beat us, but not while I was awake. But this here feller certainly got one on me. Say, he's livin' here yet, an' he ain't never paid me a cent. Why don't I collect his bill? How can I? Wait till I tell you.

"He'd been stoppin' here for near two months when I approached him on the subject of gettin' something on account. He was cheerful. I was polite. Finally I got mad and put it up to him straight.

"'Young man,' says I, 'you can't leave this hotel till you pay your bill.'

"'Will you put that in writin'?' says he. And before I knowed what I was doin' I done it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hypocrisy and Sincerity. Matt. vi:1-18.

Golden Text—Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them, else ye have no reward of your Father who is in heaven. Matt. vi:1.

1.) Verses 1-4—Is it or not, and why, always wrong to let people know the fact and the amount of our givings to benevolence?

(2.) If we give to the cause of God gladly and to the extent of our ability, should we seek to hide the fact or be willing to have it known, and why?

(3.) If we give more to a good cause when our givings are made public than when they are not, are we or not, and why, necessarily hypocritical?

(4.) If we give secretly or otherwise with the expectation of being rewarded by God, is our motive noble or ignoble, and why? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(5.) Verses 5-6—If a person prays in public for the sake of being heard, what sort of man is he?

(6.) If a person prays longer and with more fervor in public than he does in private, what sort of man is he?

(7.) If Jesus here does not condemn praying in public, what does he condemn?

(8.) What are the benefits of private prayer?

(9.) Why is it impossible for a person to be a Christian who does not have private communion with God?

(10.) Verses 7-8—What benefit is a form of words in prayer, even if appropriate, if the heart and mind are not in the prayer?

(11.) How do you reconcile the fact that Jesus prayed all night long with the instructions he here gives concerning prayer?

(12.) If the Heavenly Father knows what we have need of before we ask him, what is the need or benefit of praying?

(13.) Verse 9—Does Jesus give what we call the Lord's Prayer as an example of brevity or as a form to be used, or both?

(14.) Verses 9-13—What and how many petitions does the Lord's Prayer include?

(15.) What things are we to pray for and in what order of importance according to this model prayer?

(16.) Verses 14-15—May we take it as literally true and without exception that if we forgive all those who have injured us God forgives us? Give your reasons.

(17.) If we do not forgive others, but pray earnestly to God to forgive us, what will be the result?

(18.) Verses 16-18—Why is it that fasting is very rarely taught in these days?

(19.) What is the benefit of fasting?

Might Have Changed History.

Here is the story of an averted tragedy which, if it had not been averted, might have changed the whole course of modern history in Europe. The time was about three weeks after Sadowa. The place was the little village of Pirsdorf, about thirty miles from Vienna. King William of Prussia and Bismarck were there, and they sat down on a terrace outside a small cafe to drink beer. Kern, an Austrian forester, saw them. He regarded them as the deadly enemies of his country. He was an excellent marksman, and he had his double barreled gun with him. Taking aim from behind cover, he was about to fire when his wife, seeing what he was after and fearing the consequences, clutched him by the coattails. He turned to argue with her, and before the argument was finished the king and his chancellor had disappeared. So nothing happened. But if Kern had been allowed to fire there might have been no German empire.—Westminster Gazette.

Standing upon carpet has a tendency to muffle the voice, since a layer of inelastic and nonconducting material is then interposed between the seat of voice production and the floor, which, when it is not covered, acts as a sound board, taking up the vibrations and giving increased effect and distinctness to them. This can be illustrated by placing a timepiece first upon a rug or carpet and then upon the bare floor. In the latter position the ticking is much louder, because the vibrations of the clock are then much more forcibly communicated to the floor and so to the air of the room and finally to the ear by actual contact between the clock and the floor. A carpet damps or kills these vibrations because it is a bad conductor of sound. The difference, which is so audible in this case, is in some degree to be detected when the voice is heard under similar conditions.

Waked Up John.

"John," said Mrs. Dorkins, "stop reading your paper just a moment."

"All right. What is it, Maria?"

"Before you come home this afternoon I want you to go to some store and get me a dozen thumb tacks. Think you can remember that?"

"Certainly."

"If there's any more than one size—listen now—I want the larger ones. You won't forget?"

"No."

Late that afternoon Mr. Dorkins remembered.

He rushed over to the nearest department store.

"I wish you'd tell me," he said to the floorwalker, "where you keep your—er—thumbscrews."

"Chamber of horrors, top floor, northwest corner," said the floorwalker, pushing him in the direction of the elevator.—Chicago Tribune.

Nest of a Turtle.

The manner in which a turtle constructs her nest is both interesting and suggestive, it being one of the most expeditious operations ever performed by that slow moving creature. After selecting a suitable spot she begins digging out a hole with her hind legs by moving slowly in a circle and throwing the excavated sand in a rim all around it. When that is about eighteen inches in depth and twelve in circumference she drops her eggs into it, pulls the rim of sand over them and, rising on all four legs, lets her body drop heavily on the covering sand until she has made it as compact as any part of the surrounding beach. She then makes a few false demonstrations on the shore to mislead inquisitive enemies and hastens to the sea as fast as she can travel.

A PINK LUNCHEON.

Miss Myrtle and Miss Emma Pulliam entertained at their home Saturday noon in honor of Miss Edith Cutler of Denver who is soon to return to her home after a sojourn of eighteen months in California. Details were carried out in palest pink. A low mound of pink roses formed the center piece from which radiated pink streamers to each place. Covers were marked with hand-painted parasols attached to miniatures of Miss Cutler. At each place was a card attached to a tiny pink pencil which was used in a guessing contest to determine the coming courses which were cleverly represented by charades. During the desert course the guests were told to pull the pink ribbons at their various places and it was found that each was attached to an appropriate favor which had been buried beneath the rose mound. It was then decided that Miss Lorraine Mitchell had won the prize in the guessing contest.

Upon adjourning to the living rooms a number of vocal and piano solos rendered by Miss Cutler were followed by another guessing game in which Miss Lucile Parker was accorded the prize.

Those who gathered to enjoy the pretty function and to honor Miss Cutler were Miss George Duffet, Miss Anna Woodbury, Miss Evelyn Ryan, Miss Lillian Ellias, Miss Emily Ellias, Miss Berenice Williams, Miss Clara Peterson, Miss Pearl Goode, Miss Katherine Lewis, Miss Alice Frank, Miss Lorraine Mitchell and Miss Lucile Parker.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The tennis team of the high school will enter the big tournament at Mt. Washington, Saturday, June 1st. Sadler and Littell are expected to capture the prize for men's doubles.

Mr. Taylor took his botany class to Sycamore Canon to gather wild flowers for their year's collection. The class has gone on several such interesting trips since the beginning of the year.

The Domestic Science class are beginning to serve luncheons now, and the young ladies have suddenly grown quite popular.

The class served their mothers and friends a two or three-course dinner. The girls are advancing rapidly in their skill in cooking.

About twenty Juniors and Seniors accepted the invitation of Occidental College to enjoy "The Sawdust Hero," last Saturday. All reported a very good time. The play is entirely college talent, as well as the music on the zylophone, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Friday afternoon, May 24, quite a number of students from the Latin department of the high school attended the play given by the Latin department of Los Angeles high school.

The students who took part in the German play are planning to have Paul Pierce, a Senior, take their pictures to help decorate the walls of the German room.

Every one is busy at the high school these days. The Seniors will commence their examinations in two weeks and the other classes the week after. Commencement comes in three weeks; class day Tuesday, and graduation Thursday. All are invited.

GERMAN PLAY.

The German classes gave a play entitled "Der Swiegersohn," last Friday afternoon. The farce was well rendered and much credit is due Miss Flood for its success.

Frau Kanzelrathin	Edith Hagin
Herr Kanzelrath	Warner Grassell

Marie Engelman	Lola Stutsman
Dr. Eckart	Ralph Proctor
Max Engleman	Wilmot McIntyre

Major	Murdo McIver
Burgomeister	Tom Richards
Kastellan (Detective)	Tom Furst

There were six scenes, including the prologue.

Edith Hagen as Kanzelrathin, and Warner Grassell as Kanzelrath, were especially good. Bunny McIntyre played the part of Max, a young boy, remarkably well when it came to the dinner party.

The Junior class is making preparations for the Junior-Senior banquet to be given in the gymnasium of the school during commencement week. The two classes are also planning on having an "Invitation Day" when the Juniors will be initiated into the Senior class. Thus all the Juniors will be full-fledged Seniors at the beginning of next year.

WORTH WHILE CLUB.

The Worth While Club has taken up its regular work again, after a brief intermission during the evangelist meetings. The last meeting was held Monday evening, May 27th, at the home of Mrs. M. P. Harrison on Kenwood street. The study for the evening was Esther and Ezra, Miss Affa Sinclair being the leader. After the program was completed, a surprise in the nature of a miscellaneous shower, was given Miss Belle Lyans, who is to be a June bride. A number of games were then enjoyed, after which Mrs. Howard Lennox, as hostess, served very dainty refreshments.

CHAPTER L, of P. E. O.

An interesting session of Chapter L was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Ruth Byram. A short business meeting was held, followed by an interesting report of the annual state convention in Riverside. Mrs. A. L. Bryant, Mrs. John Hunchberger and Mrs. A. W. Tower of Chapter L were all present at the banquet held in Glenwood Inn in honor of the visiting delegates. Mrs. Chester McGee of Los Angeles was a guest of the Chapter during the session. This was the last business meeting of Chapter L for the season.

TROPICO

On motion of Dr. A. O. Conrad of the board of trustees of this city, Dr. E. F. Tholen has been appointed health officer of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Farr of San Bernardino, are passing some time with their daughter, Mrs. Joy Goodsell and family of Palmer avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Scott of Vevay, Ind., were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Retts on Palmer avenue. The visitors are old friends of Mr. Retts.

Mrs. F. E. Normandie of Glendale, is having erected at the intersection of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, an unusually pretty bungalow, which she will occupy when it is completed.

A party consisting of Misses Fred and Ruby Borthick and Blanche Davenport and Mrs. E. K. Daniels enjoyed an auto trip Tuesday to Alhambra, where they passed some time as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Kirkham and family.

After passing some time in the northern part of the state, Rev. M. M. Eshelman has returned to this city to reside permanently. Mr. Eshelman has intended to locate permanently in the north, but the call of this little Southern California town was too great.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held a meeting in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. The Mothers' Jewels and the Junior League were especial guests. A program suitable for the young people was rendered and refreshments served.

A pleasing event was the luncheon given by Mrs. C. L. Chandler to the P. E. O. sisterhood at her home on West Park avenue, Friday afternoon. Elaborate and satisfactory reports of the P.E.O. convention held at Riverside were given by Mrs. Cora Webster and Mrs. Abbie Barker.

Improvement work on Glendale avenue is progressing rapidly. Rock has been distributed along the entire east side of the road from the southern city limits of Glendale to the San Fernando road and the work of laying the rock on the west side of the street is now in progress. When completed this will doubtless be one of the finest streets in the valley.

Rumor has it that Hal Davenport, one of Tropico's most progressive real estate men, will sometime in the near future begin the erection of a brick business block at the corner of Cypress street and Brand boulevard. Should Mr. Davenport carry out this idea this building will doubtless be the starting of a business section on Brand such as has been erected in Glendale.

Two pieces of realty just south of this place are being subdivided at this time and the lots put on the market. One piece of realty is known as Elliott Place and is situated about a half mile south of the limits of this city, and lies at the intersection of Eagle Rock road and the San Fernando road. The second piece of land lies opposite on the San Fernando road from the Handorf hay barn and within the limits of Los Angeles. Mr. Summers, who is opening this tract, is a son-in-law of Hugh Glassell.

A party of Tropico residents were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Conrad at their ranch at Newhall last Sunday. The affair was in the form of a picnic luncheon, the feature on the menu being a barbecued lamb. The repast was served beneath the large live oak trees on the hillside. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. George Roper, Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Davenport, Miss Blanche Davenport and Miss Lucile Pittman. The trip to Newhall was made by auto.

TO DO CITY PRINTING.

The Tropico Inter-Urban Sentinel, N. C. Burch, editor, has been awarded the contract to print, publish and circulate the legal publications of the city of Tropico and its officers at 35 cents per column inch for the first insertion and 25 cents per column inch for each subsequent insertion thereafter, to be set in six-point type.

TO HAVE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Steps are being rapidly taken to establish an up-to-the-minute public library at this place. To this end the board of trustees has appropriated the sum of $300 out of the general fund for library purposes, until December 1, 1912.

The following letter has been received by the Tropico trustees:

"To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Tropico, Cal.

"Gentlemen: Per order of the Thursday Afternoon of Tropico under date of May 2, 1912, the board of directors of the Tropico free library hereby gives to the city of Tropico one desk and stool, one reading table, two smaller tables, three chairs, one case, shelving and all books pertaining to the Tropico free library.

"Luella M. Bullis, Pres.
"Sala Logan, Secretary."

The selection of a "Home" for the library is a matter which has been troubling the trustees somewhat. With the hope of solving this problem Mrs. Ella Richardson, widow of the late E. W. Richardson, now residing in Palo Alto, where her children are attending school, has offered to erect a bungalow on Laurel street to serve as a library and reading room, on such plans and terms as would be mutually acceptable. Hal Davenport has also made an offer to the board in this respect. He has offered the city the use of a room in the business block which he is about to erect at the corner of Brand boulevard and Cypress street.

Nesom's Drug Store has secured the agency for Pratt's Celebrated Poultry and Stock Remedies. You can secure a treatise on poultry and stock diseases free on application.

Come Now, Bargains Everywhere

Since the Great Water Discovery in SAN JACINTO, the whole Valley is on the move. Had it been a Gold Strike, the excitement could not be greater. It certainly could not have done as much genuine good to as great a number of people. It is a case now of a cozy, thrifty home in one of the most fertile, as well as the most beautiful garden spots on earth, before they are all gone, or the price gets beyond the reach of the average pocketbook. They are bound to treble or more in price, and still be a bargain over anything else with similar advantages. We prophesy that it won't be four months before every foot in the Valley will be selling at a premium.

Remember, every acre is at present under a high state of cultivation great apricot, peach and walnut orchards, the best alfalfa fields in the State, in fact there is no limit to the variety of crops and fruits that can be grown to the very best advantage in this soil. It has been rightly termed the country of the Big Potato.

A Committee with autos has been appointed to show everybody around free, and we extend a hearty invitation to all our good neighbors to see this beautiful little Valley of ours in all its glory. Come over on the Santa Fe in the morning, back in the evening. The San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

Mr. Rene Glover spent Sunday evening at Venice and reports a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Glover and others enjoyed a day at Griffith Park recently.

Everybody's doing it—having their homes fitted up for electricity, and the double duty in consequence.

Mrs. R. W. Hammond and children expect to leave in a short time for a visit to Mrs. Hammond's old home in Virginia.

Mrs. Laura Scammon and Mrs. J. L. Russ were the guests of Mrs. Andrew Mortensen of Crenshaw boulevard, Los Angeles, on Friday last.

Dan Kelty, jr., will soon commence the construction of a residence of the Swiss chalet style, on his lot corner Ivy and Pacific, but not for investment.

The children of the West Glendale M. E. church are preparing a very interesting program for Children's Day, June 12th, to which every one is most cordially invited.

Mrs. Midcalf who has been dangerously ill for some time at her home, 1530 Oak street, is slightly improved, and it is the sincere wish of all her rfiends that she will soon regain her health.

Mr. P. Ghiglia has sold his vineyard on Sycamore street west of the school house to real estate firm of Eagle Rock. The property will be divided into lots, following the harvest of this year's grapes.

Mr. Geo. Holman will soon have an addition to his home in the nature of a fine, large sleeping porch. Mr. Holman was in San Fernando on Sunday last where he was successful in making an important real estate deal.

Mr. John Bundy died at his home on Pacific avenue on May 25th, aged 83 years. Mr. Bundy had been ill but a short time, that is, confined to his bed. Mrs. Bundy died a few years ago at their home on Fourth street which had then been built but a short time. Interment at Catholic cemetery in Los Angeles, May 27th.

Seven hundred dollars was pledged by the Ladies' Aid of the West Glendale M. E. church at the time the new edifice was built, at the dedication. This has only been a short time ago, and it has all been paid up, with the exception of one hundred dollars, and a year's time in which to pay it. The ladies are confident of having this checked off by or even before that time, and still have some laid by. They have put in cement walks, bought carpets and many other things, and deserve credit for their untiring zeal.

REV. A. B. MORRISON REACHES HIS EIGHTY-FIRST MILE-STONE.

Eighty-one years ago, on May 26th, Rev. Morrison, pastor of the West Glendale M. E. church, first saw the light of day, and as the pastor himself said, was "squalling like a good fellow." On May 27, 1912, as he was entering into his eighty-second birthday, at about 10:30 p. m., we left him still talking and enjoying the party that the members of the Ladies' Aid had prepared in his honor. The Sunday school room had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, under the direction of Mrs. Lyman Adams, Mrs. Moore, Mr. DeMuth and Mr. Lyman Adams. At the west end of the building was draped a large American flag, with smaller ones in evidence, throughout the room. The south windows were curtained with red and green, while over the north windows was hung a curtain of pink roses and ivy. Festoons of honeysuckle and Shasta daisies were hung from the various corners and centered at the chandelier, which was decorated with red roses and ferns. A huge bowl of American Beauty roses and a bouquet of eighty-one carnations, one for each year of the pastor's life, graced the table and the organ was a bower of Shasta daisies. The following excellent program was given, with repeated encores: Prayer, Rev. Elliott; hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds;" reading, Mrs. A. B. Morrison; recitation, "My Lover," Mrs. Von Louven; vocal solo, Mrs. Lyon; reading from James Whitcomb Riley's poems, Dr. Moore; readings, Mrs. Cook's class; vocal solo, "Silver Threads among the Gold," Miss Clara Morrison; words of appreciation, Rev. Morrison.

Mrs. Lyman Adams, president of the Ladies' Aid, presented the pastor with a new hat, a gift from the ladies' with something that closely resembled a shining gold piece, to which was added a bright piece of silver, the gift from some child, and for which Rev. Morrison expressed his hearty appreciation. Coffee and cake was then generously dispensed to those gathered, and a general good time enjoyed by all, the honored guest coming in for his share, receiving hearty congratulations, and feeling as he said, as young in spirit as the "little fry."

During the annual convention of Federated Clubs which was held recently at Paso Robles, Mrs. Mary H. Gridley of Brand boulevard lead the discussion as to whether "Club membership should or should not be limited." Mrs. Gridley spoke decidedly against the proposition and at the conclusion of her address, the two who were to speak in opposition stated that they had been convinced themselves, and asked to be excused from delivering the opposition speeches.
